Proud Achievement! Sapano ki udaan

AECS Magnolia Maaruti Public School, Bengaluru, proudly celebrates the literary achievement of Palak Kumawat, a talented student of Grade X, whose poetic excellence has earned her national recognition. Palak's poem, titled "शिलायाः निःशब्द स्वर" (The Silent Voice of the Stone), has been selected and published in the National E-Magazine Sapnon ki Udaan (5th Issue, June 2025), released by the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT). Her work appears on page 17 of the publication and has been accompanied by a Certificate of Appreciation from NCERT.

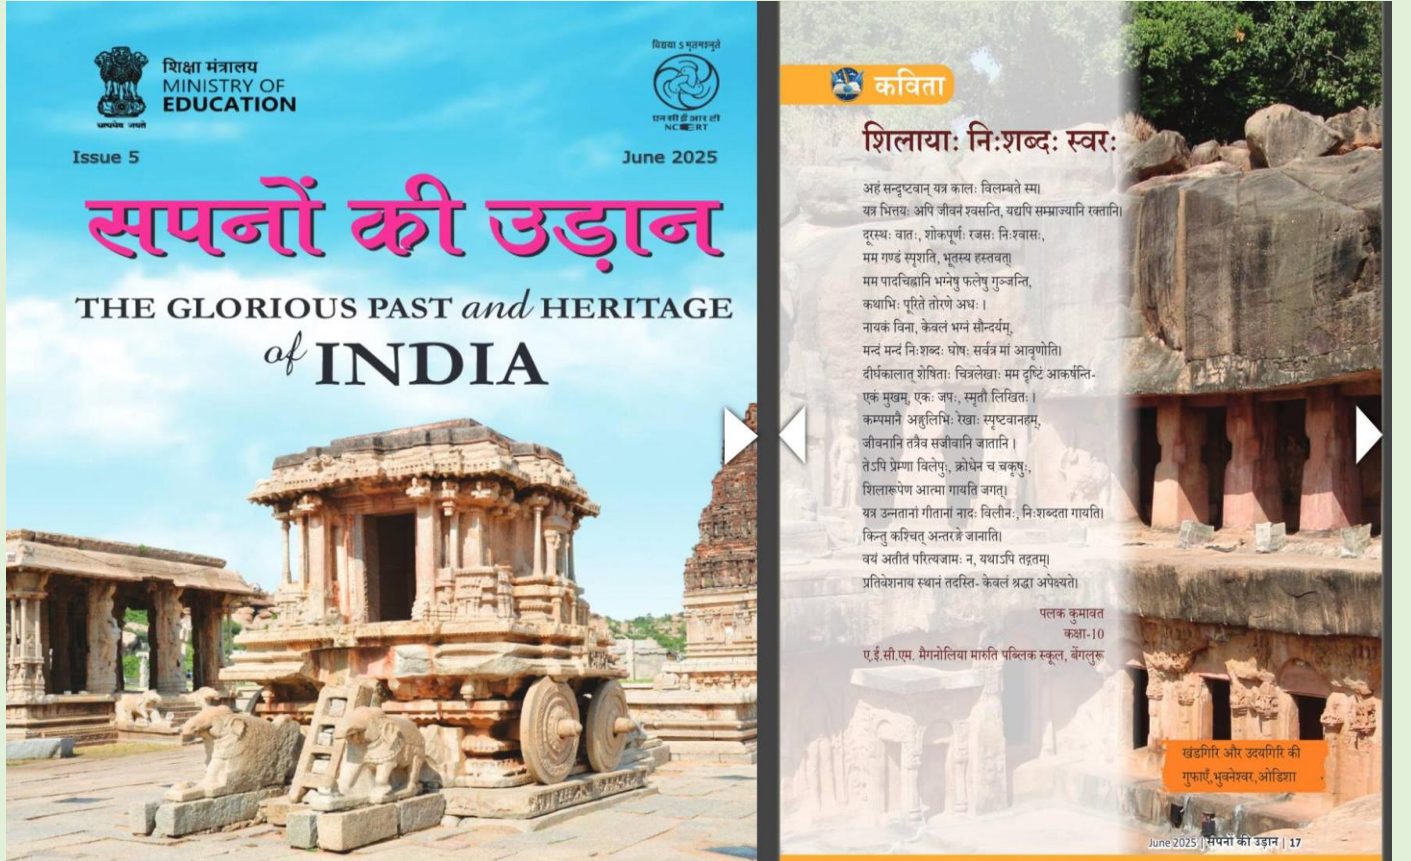

The poem, rich in imagination and emotional depth, beautifully captures the essence of silent strength and enduring expression, reflecting Palak's profound sensitivity and command over language. Her selection for publication at a national platform is a testament to her creativity, originality, and dedication to the art of writing.

This recognition not only highlights Palak's individual brilliance but also underscores the school's commitment to nurturing creative expression, literary appreciation, and multilingual competence among students. Through such achievements, AECS Magnolia Maaruti Public School continues to inspire its learners to think deeply, express artistically, and connect meaningfully with the world of ideas.

The school management, principal, and teachers extend their heartfelt congratulations to Palak for her outstanding accomplishment and wish her continued success in her creative pursuits. Her recognition serves as an inspiration for all young Magnolians to explore the power of words and imagination.
